CRITICAL ACCESS HOSPITAL

Not all your providers at SMC will look like this everyday. What it does mean is that the hospital has passed the highest sanitary and safety provisions which can be called out by your primary care physicians when needed. Only 38 of 110 Oklahoma hospitals have climbed this high.

SMC Staff Kathy Burton, Robert Castleberry and Osam Sakamoto. Chemo patients brought to the hospital must accept extreme sanitary measures as their immune system is weak. Here they are prepared to take wheelchair-bound Lynn Martin to his room.

Lynn Says

Tom and Brenda McDaniel weigh in on cancer experience

By Lynn L Martin

I'm appreciative that people are still sending cards/letters wishing me well in my chemo fights; but what is more important is the number of friends and relatives who have had cancer and survived. I didn't realize or had forgotten there were so many.

In the past, I've been one of those people who've done too many of those socially automatic replies when asked, "How are you doing," with my programmed answer being the "Oh, I'm just fine, how are you?" and then moving on.

It's a safe mid-America way of being friendly while not committing too much time. Unfortunately, all of us have a few people as friends who never learned the appropriate shut-off valve time for the casual social encounter and we tend to flee when we see them coming. It's not that we don't like or value them, but often we don't have a spare 15 minutes.

I'm going to quote from cards written by both Tom and Brenda. In case you don't know, Tom, an attorney, practiced in Alva in the early '70s (I think) and then moved on to important corporate jobs in the OKC area. I was always flattered when they still had me come down and shoot fresh Christmas card photos for many years. Tom later returned for a too-brief period as president of NWSU. He implemented numerous NWSU/ community friendly policies that made him beloved in the job.

I appreciate that he urged me to continue to write about my cancer experience. He said, "Your willingness to share this experience will provide much encouragement and understanding to others. My first diagnosis was in 2004, and I continue to be thankful for every day in 2018. We are praying for you."

Brenda, also a dear friend, encouraged me, "We have so enjoyed reading your articles about your battle with cancer because Tom has battled it so many times. I do not think we could have done it without Jesus by our side so many times. Our prayers are with you."

I do not reprint these kind letters to pat myself on the back. I am finding that I had no idea how important this daily encouragement helps. A couple of months ago, Dr. Self asked, "How are you doing psychologically?" I said, "About normal. It's just another battle to tackle."

Since then, I have learned that day after day of constant pain and exhaustion is a major factor and some days I dread fighting another round. I simply did not properly sympathize with others who are tolerating the pain of cancer. I was clueless.

So remember, I'm not the only one out there. Most don't have a personal column of their own. That's why I frequently contact people who have written for permission to quote.

In my past 15-hour work days, I've had a lot of stamina. Now maybe today I can work one hour. Then I'll get a letter from halfway across the country, such as this one. That will use my one hour today but I love it because it is such a spirit boost, so I value any surprise support that suddenly appears ... usually in the form of a card or letter. It provides an unexpected life-boost.

I'm also so appreciative of the Alva School administration in allowing us to continue our 45-year school contract, which permitted us to move Kat and Trey from Phoenix to Alva. All small towns need fresh young people.

Molz takes seat at South Barber School Board for first time

Chieftains football homecoming Friday night

By Yvonne Miller

The South Barber School Board met Monday night for their regular September meeting that lasted nearly one hour.

Kiowa man Ryan Molz took his seat as a new board member to fill the unexpired term of Steve Allen.

Board President Mark Pollock called the meeting to order with all members present except Bryan Quick, who was absent. Those members are: Mariah

Doherty, Deb Helfrich, Melissa Simpson and Mike Miller. Superintendent Dr. Mylo Miller and Board Clerk Julie Johnson also sat at the table.

Auditor Randy Ford presented the school's annual financial audit. He gave a "clean opinion." Ford said that all of South Barber's funds are in compliance. In a lighthearted moment he said, "The auditor doesn't care that Julie is off by a penny, much to her dismay." Ford said, "Julie is great to work with – Dr. Miller is, too."

Ford told the board that KPERS is underfunded by about $9 billion, of which South Barber's part is about $2.4 million.

Following an executive session, the board approved hiring Amanda Olson as a part-time cook at the elementary site. Board member Miller asked the superintendent how the school's summer lunch program went financially. Ford interjected that the school receives $4,844 federal funds to help with the summer food program. He said that money is given through the state but it is actually federal money.

The board approved payment of monthly bills totaling $294,301.71.

Discussion and possible action concerning the current maintenance agreement with the P1 Group Inc. was on the agenda. P1 did major improvement projects for USD 255 about five years ago, including many at the elementary building. The warranty on the AC and heating system expire in about 30 days.

Dr. Miller asked for the board's authority to shop around for better prices – to leave the door open for negotiations with P1. The board gave the superintendent that authority and voted to opt out of that maintenance agreement.

Superintendent, Principal and Building Coordinator Report

Superintendent Miller thanked all staff members, Grade 7-12 Principal Brent Shaffer and Elementary Building Coordinator Adam Maloney for "stepping up" and making the start of school successful. He told how well Teacher Professional Development

Board member Mike Miller is also in the photo and invites all those district patrons 65 and older to drop by USD 255's central office on Main Street to get their ticket. Freedom Public Schools administrators praise students

By Stacy Sanborn

Freedom Public Schools Board of Education met Monday night with all members present except Shan Wilson. The group began by approving minutes from the last regular and special board meetings; the treasurer's report; activity fund report; and encumbrances for the general, building, and child nutrition fund.

Superintendent James Miller told members about upcoming events including the OSSBA Teacher of the Year ceremonies to be held Sept. 18 with Ms. Matthews representing Freedom. The superintendent workshop is scheduled for Sept. 26, he said, and the OSSBA Region 2 meeting at Timberlake will be held on Oct. 16. Miller took time to brag about cross country students and told the board that tentative basketball schedules are out.

Next, Principal Michelle Shelite said the MAPs testing at NWEA started last

Friday and although they're working out some kinks, things are on the right track and they'll soon be able to see where the students stand on state standards and what area will need attention.

Shelite also took time to brag on the students that entered the county fair. Many students' artwork took first, second and third places. There was one grand champion and two placing for state. Ag students did extremely well with their livestock, and even welding students received first place. The principal mentioned parent teacher conferences were right around the corner, scheduled for Sept. 20.

Moving through the agenda quickly, board members approved the adoption of a resolution selecting construction management as the project delivery method for the 2019 bond projects. Red Sky Constructors were approved as the construction management team and Kerr 3 Design as the architect.

The 2018-2019 Career Tech contract agreement was accepted and approved along with fundraiser requests for FY 2019.

Superintendent Miller presented the college readiness report as the meeting neared its end. He said the latest report was from 2016-2017 and out of the students that graduated from Freedom, seven went to college. In discussing the school's financial state, Miller said next month's meeting will be more informative because by then the estimate of needs will be in to give more accurate numbers. He said more money, about $100,000 more than last year, will be spent this year due to the increase in teacher wages along with other miscellaneous purchases.

There were no resignations and no new business. A motion was made to adjourn and the meeting closed.

Alfalfa County commissioners listen to sales pitches

By Stacy Sanborn

Monday morning's commissioner meeting was much more eventful than those in the recent past as the three commissioners listened to a couple of sales pitches from two separate companies. The first was from two lawyers looking to obtain a contract for a legal service agreement in regards to litigation on the opioid epidemic. The lawyers, representing the Fulmer Sill and McAfee & Taft law firms, explained how opioid abuse is plaguing small towns not just in Oklahoma but all over the United States. The issue is so pressing that the Centers for Disease Control is working on plans to decrease opioid abuse by enacting strict guidelines for opioid prescriptions as well as improving the agency's ability to track opioid data quickly.

The aforementioned law firms have drawn up legal service agreements with the commissions in Yukon, Oklahoma City and Dewey County so far and are working on securing contracts with officials in northwest Oklahoma. Yu-

Alva schools hire elementary music teacher

By Marione Martin

A contract with an elementary music teacher has been approved for the Alva schools. The board of education voted to approve a one year contract with Connie Bryant during the Tuesday, Sept. 4, meeting.

The board met for just over a half hour on the day after Labor Day. Board members present for the meeting were Shane Hansen, Karen Koehn, Jane McDermott and Larry Parker. Tiffany Slater was absent.

Superintendent Tim Argo was appointed to review results of the National Criminal History Record Searches for fiscal year 2019. Carl's Capitol Comments

By Rep. Carl Newton

Summer has been a time to get out in northwest Oklahoma and see many of you. I will continue to get out in the district. It has also been a time to catch up on things back home, especially mowing! We have been thoroughly blessed with all the rain this summer putting most of northwestern

Oklahoma out of the drought category. I would like to update/highlight some of the current issues.

Medical marijuana is still one of the top items being talked about at this time. The legislative working group is meeting with all interested parties involved about establishing the guidelines. The goal is to establish a system that meets the needs of those that can benefit from medical marijuana and yet make sure it is properly controlled. Now is the time to analyze the potential risk. Interestingly some states passed medical marijuana years ago and have yet to get it fully implemented.

The guidelines from the state of Oregon have often been referenced in designing the prescription guidelines. The Oregon model has proven to be very effective in providing the medication to the patient, while making sure misuse is kept to a minimum. The final product may take a while to work out but they are trying to keep the guidelines as close to the ballot initiative as is reasonable.

The primary and run-off elections have been completed and we now know the final candidates for governor, Lt. governor, labor commissioner, insurance commissioner, state auditor and state school superintendent. Interestingly, all of the Republican candidates that are on the ballot in November, except for state school superintendent, were not the leading vote-getters in the first round of primaries. The runoffs also showed that the next legislative session will have the largest number of new members in the House of Representatives. Interestingly, if no other incumbents lose in the general

Waynoka BOE breezes through monthly meeting

By Stacy Sanborn

Waynoka Public Schools Board of Education met briefly Tuesday of last week with a relatively short agenda to tackle. All members were present. The meeting kicked off with board members reviewing, accepting and approving the consent agenda. The superintendent, Scott Cline, filled the group in on the school's current financial status, stating that this year's expenditures are up about $60,000, half of that being due to the increase in payroll. He said revenue really hadn't started coming in yet, but is about the same as last year. In child nutrition, Cline said there hasn't been enough time for any expenditures or revenue to be calculated and in the building fund about $10,000 less than last year has been spent. The school received its valuation he said, and is up by approximately $7 million from last year for a total of $90.9 million. The superintendent said all in all, the school's finances are looking pretty good.

Another bond meeting with the architect and construction manager is scheduled for Sept. 19, Cline said. The rain has slowed down some progress of the work being done at the school but it shouldn't take much to get back on target.

Next, the school officials approved the adoption and/or amending of board policies. The changes are a result of yearly updates from the last legislative session.

Board members moved on to discuss the submission of waivers to the Oklahoma State Department of Education. The Accreditation Standards Division within the State Department requires Oklahoma schools adhere to strict guidelines that ensure educational quality and compliance to rules and policies. The rigorous standards for accreditation are comprehensive, covering all areas of a school's operation. When these standards can't be met, the school must apply for a waiver through the State Department. The media program, in place to assist students and teachers in becoming effective users of ideas and information, has its own set of standards to meet. One such standard is the employment of qualified staff in relation to student enrollment numbers. Currently, Waynoka Public Schools qualified library media specialist, Megan Smith, is available to serve just two hours a day in the library. Because of transitions with educators, Smith spends the other hours of the day teaching math and computer, leaving the library under the guidance of full-time library assistant Linda Hofen. Because Smith is not in the library for the duration of a whole school day, and without Hofen being a certified library media specialist, the accreditation standard can't be met and therefore requires a statutory waiver.

Board members approved submission of that waiver as well as one needed on a co-op agreement for the alternative education program. Oklahoma statutes require a school enter into a co-op agreement with another school district if enrollment in their alternative education program is less than ten students unless a waiver is applied for and approved. Superintendent Cline said he would like to keep the alternative program on campus and requested members to approve its submission.

Nearing the agenda's end, fundraiser requests for the 2018-2019 school year were approved along with the Waynoka Junior/Senior High Student Council Constitution.

Members of the board accepted 42 high school football uniforms be declared as surplus and, before adjourning, approved the purchase of a 2019 Chevrolet Silverado 3500 HP pickup truck at a total of $50,467. The truck should be ready in three to six weeks, Cline said.

Woods County commissioners approve several bids

By Kat Lunn

All commissioners were present at this week's regular Monday morning meeting, along with County Clerk Shelley Reed, Kat Lunn of the Alva Review Courier, and David Manning. The commissioners started their meeting off with the usual business. They approved warrants and claims, along with the minutes from Aug. 27 regular meeting.

The commissioners next approved three permits for Select Energy Services. Hamil, seconded by Smiley, made a motion to approve these. They are all in District 1 and are temporary water lines.

The next agenda item, related to the Waynoka ambulance service, had no action.

The monthly reports were approved, motioned by Smiley and seconded by Hamil. Assessor collections were at $323.50 and County Clerk Office collections at $11,074.63. The County Clerk Office balance was $251,126.38 and the election board balance was $4,428.82. Health department collections were $0 and sheriff's office collections were

Kiowa's major water line replacement project addressed at public meeting

By Yvonne Miller

It appeared only about 15 residents attended a public meeting regarding Kiowa's proposed major water line replacement held in late August at the Chief Theater in Kiowa. There were more professionals and city council people who are involved with the project at the meeting.

The total proposed project is estimated to cost approximately $8.2 million. Phase I of the project replaces about 10 miles of dilapidated line along the Tri-City Road. This is from Kiowa's water wells southeast of Sharon to Hazelton. Kiowa City Administrator Lou Leone said the city is spending an average of $50,000 per year on repairs for this portion of line. At a council meeting Monday night, Leone said they had another five or six breaks on that line in the last month. These lines lie on hard red shale rock and vibrations cause the lines to thin, crack and break.

The water lines from Hazelton to Kiowa are fine the experts say, in part because it's in good soil. So Phase I of the project involves the Tri-City portion only. Phase II will replace about one-third of Kiowa's water distribution system. The around 100 year-old system was described as sub-par at the meeting. The engineers and locals who look at the system say there is a variety of PCB pipe, cast iron, galvanized pipe, cement asbestos, etc. Leone has a variety of some of the old waterlines used in his office and they aren't pretty.

BG Consultants Engineer Sam Johnson spoke. He said having informative public meetings like this one are part of satisfying low interest loan and grant requirements when applying for community improvement projects such as this.

Phase I will not just replace the transmission line, but replaces the interior water well components including piping, valves, meters, electrical and HVAC. A jokey pump will be replaced with hydro-pneumatic tanks.

The 10-inch diameter transmission line will be replaced along Tri-City Road from the well house south of Sharon to the railroad right of way north of Hazelton.

Johnson said he's been talking to landowners about obtaining easements where the waterline runs. He said the proposed alignment for the transmission main will be generally located 30 feet west of the right of way (fence line) or west side of the road.

Project Financing

Johnson provided information that says Phase I total cost is $4,642,100. That is a $3,059,000 USDA Loan and a

KDH Board plans for upcoming health fair Oct. 26; Jeans and Gems Oct. 27

Conversion to Cerner electronic healthcare records successful

By Yvonne Miller

The Kiowa District Hospital Board meet for their regular August meeting at the end of the month. Board president Pat Myers called the meeting to order with all members present, including Chantae Simpson, Miranda Allen, Jeff Miller and Jim Parker. The new CEO Robert Whitaker sat at the regular monthly meeting board table for the first time. Manor Administrator John Fonang also came to the table. Others attending were Janell Goodno, CFO; Liz McLaughlin, Manor DON; Godwin Fey and Mike Hand of Cohesive Healthcare; members of the KDH staff; and some district patrons.

Goodno presented financial and statistical information for July. She told the board that month was KDH's "Go-Live Month" of conversion to Cerner electronic healthcare records. Because of that conversion, caregivers were allotted one hour per patient. Goodno said they realized this would drive down their numbers. She also said KDH is the first hospital using Cerner's GL System. Billing cycles "are more efficient with Cerner."

A team of Cerner employees came to KDH several days for the conversion. Goodno said, "The Cerner people complimented our staff for being one of the best they've worked with."

With the ongoing conversion, KDH stats for July showed 98 days of total care. Of that number, 82 were swingbed days. The hospital had 425 total outpatient visits and the clinic had 332.

July was a three-pay period month, Goodno said.

The hospital's operating statement showed total operating revenue of $670,807. That's after total contractual adjustments of $243,605. Total operating expenses were $795,405. This made at loss for the hospital of $124,598. With the addition of $78,067 tax revenue and $20,955 memorial/grant income and $48 other, the hospital's loss was curbed to $25,528. The statement shows the hospital's loss year to date (YTD) at $35,294 at the end of July.

The manor's census was to be 25 residents the day after the board meeting, Fonang said. Goodno gave manor financials that showed total operating revenue of $145,991 and total expenses of $166,995. This made a loss of $21,004. An addition of $5,000 tax revenue and miscellaneous income lessened the manor's July loss to $15,221.

This makes the manor's loss YTD $103,591, which Goodno said is "much better than" the previous year's loss at the same time which was $255,069.

Giving figures from the combined balance sheets of the hospital and manor, Goodno said the overall loss is $138,885.

Total cash in all funds at the end of July was $1,274,636. Total assets were $9,237,914. Total net patient accounts receivable was $1,782,887.

Still in a payable status to Medicare, Goodno said Medicare had not yet adjusted the reimbursement rates for KDH, a Critical Access Hospital, needed for their increased days of care.

The board approved the financial reports, payment of bills and collection of bad debt.

Other KDH Business

In a hospital administrator's report to the board, Whitaker handed out an organizational chart he revised to help him understand who does what. There are changes such as a new report the state wants regarding risk management in which Robyn Whitaker is in charge and now reports to the CEO. The board approved the revised chart.

Whitaker moved all employee evaluations to the same time period of the year (September - October). This is instead of the month the employee was hired. The new evaluation time frame starts Jan. 1. The handbook will be revised to remove some wellness mandates for employees.

The CEO listed upcoming events for KDH. The annual KDH Health Fair is Oct. 26 from 6:30 to 11 a.m. The Jeans and Gems fundraising event organized by the Friends of the Hospital and Manor Foundation is Oct. 27. Details of that evening event will come soon. The employee recognition night will be in November with the exact date to be announced.

When the new hospital was built, the air conditioning was not put on the emergency generator system. The board approved the quote of $8,400 to connect the air conditioning to the generator.

Whitaker said SC Telcom has been the host for the KDH website. However he said SC Telcom is getting out of the website business. He is searching for another provider. The CEO said this would be a good time to change the hospital's domain, which is @k-d-h.com and is not convenient to type. He voiced some possibilities, mykdh.org or kiowahealthcare.com or .org

Briefly discussing the manor, Fonang said "residents are happy." The beds Cohesive donated for the manor were expected to arrive any day.

Fonang said the Manor DON, McLaughlin, would present her detailed report in executive session. Fonang also said he had some private pay issues to discuss with them in executive session.

Cohesive Founder Godwin Fey said he should have the draft of the new contract between Cohesive, a management and consulting company, and KDH available in a week. This contract will take the two into their second year together. The contract renewal was in April but was not agreed upon by both parties until recently.

Medical staff appointments were approved for Paul Wilhelm, MD; Layne Reusser, MD; Joseph Couey, APRN; and John Bukaty, DO.

At Whitaker's request the board set the regular meeting dates through the end of the year. The next regular board meeting will be at the KDH lobby on Thursday, Sept. 27, at 7 p.m. The October meeting is Oct. 25; the November meeting Nov. 29; and the December meeting Dec. 27.

Following a one hour and 10 minute executive session the board took no action except to adjourn.

Undersheriff Brewer charged with involuntary manslaughter

In shooting death of Sun City man Steven Myers last Oct. 6; Preliminary hearing set for Oct. 23

By Yvonne Miller

Officials with the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) arrested Barber County Undersheriff Virgil “Dusty” Brewer last Wednesday morning. The arrest was made at the county courthouse in Medicine Lodge, according to spokeswoman Melissa Underwood in a KBI release.

Brewer, 60, was booked into the county jail. Kansas Attorney General Derek Schmidt said Brewer was charged with one count of involuntary manslaughter. The charge is in connection to the fatal shooting of Steven P. Myers, 42, of Sun City on Oct. 6, 2017.

Myers died when Brewer reportedly fired a so-called “less lethal” beanbag round at close range into Myers’ chest. A beanbag round is a small fabric pillow filled with lead pellets typically fired from a 12-gauge shotgun. Video from a police body camera captured Barber County Sheriff Lonnie Small saying, “Shot him with a beanbag round. Hadn’t shot anybody with it yet.”

In a release, Schmidt said that Brewer’s bond was set at $15,000 and his first appearance was scheduled for 11 a.m. last Friday. A condition of Brewer’s bond is that he not engage in law enforcement activity, according to Schmidt.

At the court proceedings Friday, which were reportedly brief and procedural, there was no comment from Brewer or the attorney general’s office attorneys. The judge set a preliminary hearing date for Oct. 23 at 10 a.m.

According to KSN TV station in Wichita, if convicted Brewer could face nearly 11 years behind bars.

Brewer and Sheriff Small are both being sued in federal court by Myers’ wife Kristina for the wrongful death of her husband. The first hearing for the wrongful death lawsuit is scheduled for Oct. 10.

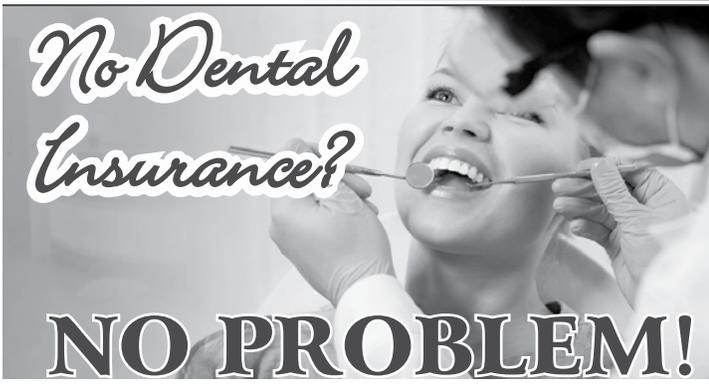

On KSN’s coverage of this story Mrs. Myers was quoted saying, “I’d like to say I’m ecstatic but I’m not because this isn’t a winning situation for anyone. Our nightmare began in October of last year but theirs is just beginning.”

BEANERS AND HORSESHOES? – At Kiowa's Labor Day festivities you think of "the beaners" around black cauldrons preparing ham and beans for the bean feed. You also think of men playing horseshoes. It's not very often you see "beaners" playing horseshoes. But after the meal, that's where Casey Williams and Willem Mostert headed for some laughs. Photo by Yvonne Miller

VOTE NO ON 793!!

There are many national optical chains that have opticals in Oklahoma. Walmart could also have opticals in Oklahoma but our laws are too restrictive, they feel on entrances, locations and the biggest thing, loss leaders to buy their market share instead of legitimately earning it. The worst part of 793 is it takes away the authority of the Board of Examiners in Optometry. Which profession is next if Walmart accomplishes passing this?

NOW THOSE ARE BIKES – These local men on fancy motorcycles add excitement to the Burlington All-School Reunion Parade held Labor Day weekend. Not in order and not all shown are: Terry Morgan and granddaughter Libby; Jack Blevins and grandson Jakob; Roger Hill, Keith Kising and grandson Drake; Sam Schurter, Jeannette and Jackson; Dennis Jeffries. Photo by Yvonne Miller

COLSON'S "OLD RED" STILL SURVIVES – Burlington High School 1978 graduate Nick Colson drives his 1974 Olds Cutlass Supreme that was quite the car in its day. In the alumni parade Nick and his dad Willis give "Old Red" a spin. It survived being driven by all three of the Colson's children – Nick, Craig and Jill. Sadly, Craig passed away this summer. Photo by Yvonne Miller

Finance officials report Oklahoma collections top estimate

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Collections to Oklahoma's main state operating fund exceeded the official estimate by nearly 7 percent in August, buoyed mostly by better-than-expected individual income tax collections.

The Office of Management and Enterprise Services released figures on Tuesday that show collections to the General Revenue Fund totaled $455 million last month. That's an increase of 6.6 percent from the monthly estimate and nearly 10 percent over collections during the same month last year.

Despite the good news, OMES Director Denise Northrup noted that collections from the gross production tax on oil and natural gas were nearly 10 percent below the estimate. Motor vehicle tax collections also were below the estimate.

The biggest boost came from individual income tax collections of $157.5 million, which was nearly 23 percent above the estimate.

Oklahoma man seeks new trial in white supremacist plot

By Ken Miller

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Oklahoma man says new evidence of prosecutors withholding information should result in a new trial on his 1999 murder conviction and death penalty for killing an Arkansas family as part of a plot to set up a whites-only nation in the Pacific Northwest.

Attorneys for Danny Lee, 45, of Yukon say in documents filed late Monday in U.S. District Court in Little Rock that prosecutors illegally failed to tell defense attorneys that a witness, who testified that Lee admitted to the murders to him, also told investigators he believed Lee was lying.

The witness "warned authorities that Mr. Lee had a habit of falsely claiming responsibility for criminal acts in order to make himself seem like a 'tough guy,'" according to the filing, which said the man was told by prosecutors not to volunteer information while testifying.

"He therefore did not relate to the jury that Danny Lee had a penchant for boasting about acts he had not done; that he had consistently warned authorities about that fact; and that despite appearing as a witness for the (g) overnment, he continued to discount the veracity of Mr. Lee's purported admission," the motion said.

Lee's attorneys also said DNA tests in 2007 excluded Lee from evidence connected to the slayings and that, plus the newly revealed information should result in a new trial.

The motion did not indicate when the information was discovered, and Lee's attorney, Morris Moon of the Federal Capital Habeas Project, did not immediately return a phone call to The Associated Press.

The filing also said DNA testing in 2007 revealed that hair on evidence linked to the killings, and to Lee by testimony during the trial, has excluded Lee.

Court filings do not show that a direct appeal based on DNA evidence has been filed, but an appeal claiming Lee's defense attorneys during the trial should have requested DNA testing on the hair was denied in 2008 on the grounds that not enough of the evidence existed at the time.

Lee and Chevie Kehoe, 45, of Colville, Washington, were convicted of killing gun dealer William Mueller, his wife Nancy Mueller and her 8-year-old daughter, Sarah Powell, of Russellville in 1996 and stealing guns and cash as part of the plot to set up a whites-only nation.

Kehoe, described by federal prosecutors at the time as the leader of the plot, was sentenced to life without parole days before Lee was sentenced.

Prosecutors, seeking the death penalty for both men, at the time described Kehoe as the ringleader and Lee as his henchman.

"In light of the sentencing that Chevie Kehoe received, I'm struggling to understand the verdict," said Jack Lassiter, who represented Lee at the time.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Chris Givens in Little Rock referred questions to the U.S. Department of Justice, which also did not immediately return a phone call for comment.

Oklahoma investors await marijuana industry regulations

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma residents looking to invest in the state's upcoming medical marijuana industry are anxiously awaiting the passage of business regulations.

The Oklahoma Medical Marijuana Authority has received nearly 1,300 applications for business licenses as of Sept. 5. Those applications include 452 for dispensary, 662 for cultivation and 184 for processing, the Tulsa World reported.

Many would-be business owners and startup companies are trying to get an early foothold in the medical marijuana industry by investing in groundwork and business plans, despite no state standards set in stone yet. The medicinal use of cannabis was approved by Oklahoma voters in June.

"If you're doing a really good job of starting an industry and a business, it's almost guaranteed that you're always going to be ahead of the regulations," said Ford Austin, who already has a dispensary location lined up for APCO Cure, the medical marijuana company he and two others are starting. "It's not comfortable, but it's a reality."

The authority is reviewing proposed medical marijuana business regulations, but nothing can be finalized without approval from the full Legislature, which isn't currently in session.

"We are very patient; we know that this won't happen overnight," said Melissa Fahringer, one of Austin's partners. "But we want to be pioneers; we want to be some of the first people to get in on this green rush in Oklahoma."

Some cannabis advocates have pushed for a special legislative session so lawmakers can work on the issue sooner.

"We need these things to happen right now," said Chance Gilbert, a representative of the Oklahoma Cannabis Trade Association. "Not after November, not next year, because at that point lawmakers are not held accountable for what they do by the voters."

2 small earthquakes rattle parts of north-central Oklahoma

PERRY, Okla. (AP) — Two earthquakes recorded within less than one minute of each other have rattled an area of northern Oklahoma.

The U.S. Geological Survey says each of the earthquakes was recorded Tuesday about 16 miles (27 kilometers) west-southwest of Perry.

Geologists say a 3.3 magnitude earthquake that was recorded at 11:11 a.m. was preceded by a 2.7 magnitude temblor in the same area about 30 seconds earlier. The earthquakes were recorded at a depth of about 2 miles (3 kilometers).

No injuries or damages were reported. Geologists say damage is not likely in quakes below magnitude 4.0.

Thousands of earthquakes have been recorded in Oklahoma in recent years, with many linked to the underground injection of wastewater from oil and natural gas production. State regulators have directed producers to close some injection wells.

US grand jury indicts Missouri man for pipe bomb in Oklahoma

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted a Missouri man accused of having a pipe bomb at an apartment in northeastern Oklahoma.

Prosecutors said Monday that 36-year-old Richard C. Cole of Joplin, Missouri, was indicted by a grand jury in Tulsa with possession of an unregistered destructive device.

Authorities say Delaware County sheriff's deputies were called to Cole's apartment in Afton after the landlord discovered a suspected improvised explosive device.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol Bomb Squad discovered two 1-pound canisters containing "mixed Tannerite," a type of binary explosive, two boxes of ammunition and a pipe bomb in an ammunition container. The explosive device was rendered safe and nobody was injured.

Cole's attorney, William Patrick Widell Jr. of the Federal Public Defender's Office, did not immediately return a telephone call seeking comment.

$4,131.49. Board of Prisoners expenses were $4,651.79, and treasurer's office collections were $138,248.59.

Monthly appropriations were also approved.

Two bids were discussed and approved. The first was bid No. 18-19-03, a lean-to in District 3. Erickson Steel won the bid at $30,992. The second, bid No. 18-19-04, is for a used tanker truck in Monroeville, New Jersey, being sold by the Aurora Fire Department. It appears to have been very well taken care of. The bid is for $20,500 and is approved upon physical inspection of the tanker.

Next, the commissioners approved the use of the courthouse lawn for Northwestern Oklahoma State University's homecoming.

The commissioners also approved four items to be surplussed to junk. The first (ID No. H251-09) is the assessor's printer, second (ID No. L218-3) is the old court clerk's video system, third (ID No. ED219-002) is an E911 GPS, and fourth is multiple items from Rural Fire.

An item tabled from last week was motioned by Smiley, seconded by Hamil. This was regarding two bids for county-owned land in Waynoka. Keith and Kennedy have deposited the money and the sale will occur on Oct. 1.

Another item from last meeting was the deal Woods County has made with Kansas over the three bridges on the Kansas/Oklahoma border. It has been decided that the CED will handle all inspections, repairs and upkeep on those bridges.

kon's city council has stated in its city council agenda from July that it believes it has a cause of action against certain opioid manufacturers, distributors and potential other third parties.

The law firms, hoping to get all local governments to join together in the fight, work on a contingency fee basis. Alfalfa County commissioners voted to take no action at the present time in order to research the matter further. The other sales pitch heard by commissioners was via conference call. A representative with The Public Group gave information on how his company works with government entities to sell public surplus items. No action was taken by the commissioners, as the three agreed to read more on the subject.

In regular business, maintenance and operation warrants for payment, blanket purchase orders, and monthly officer reports were accepted and approved along with six road crossing permits. District 1 carried three of those permits for a total of $1,375 while District 2 had two and a half for $4,062. 50. District 3 shared the other half for $812.50, making the sum total $6,250.

A transfer from T-7 District 3 ETR Fund for $584,522.00 to repay ETR loan was next on the agenda and the trio approved it, as well as the Hazard

Mitigation Assistance state and local agreement between the state of Oklahoma, Government's Authorized Representative (GAR), and Albert Ashwood, the director of Oklahoma Department of Emergency Management and Alfalfa County. Also approved was the NODA contract with Alfalfa County for the multi-jurisdictional hazard mitigation plan update.

The commissioners opened bids for a wildland brush hog needed for Golttry Rescue, but tabled the agenda item in order to study the proposals more closely. There was no new business to be discussed and the meeting was adjourned.

$1,573,000 USDA Grant. Leone said that near 1.6 million debt forgiveness is IF Kiowa meets all the criteria such as holding public meetings; has the funding mechanisms in place; and the city takes care of the line.

For Phase II the total cost is $3,575,690. That is a $2,975,690 USDA loan OR grant, still to be determined Johnson said. Also a $600,000 CDBG (that is if the Low to Moderate Income Survey (LMI) stays over 51 percent. Johnson said it is "teetering" at 51.02 percent).

He said the USDA loan percentage rate is guaranteed not to go higher than 3.125 percent.

This will be a three to four year project that councilmember R.L. Simpson said will benefit the local economy and make Kiowa attractive to new businesses.

Councilmembers at the meeting agreed the top three things people considering relocation look at are power, water and internet.

A separate future article will look more in-depth at cost on water bills, etc.

Local man Mike Hiltner spoke from the crowd and referred to a newspaper clipping from April 1, 1981. It told of an oil spill and said Kiowa's water looked like iced tea. He said it took a "huge step" for the community to step at that time and build a new water system. He encouraged the community to do it again. Experts say this is a 75 to 100 year fix.

trainings went as did the Elementary Open House, which was well attended.

The superintendent told of many recent cost-saving measures to the district such as: $26,000 saved by elimination of the online facilitator position; $5,000 saved by staff installing blinds at the elementary site (Mr. Maloney credited the superintendent for doing lots of the blind installation himself); $1,300 saved by not renewing the Rosetta Stone license since South Barber now has a fully certified Spanish teacher; $10,000 saved by discontinuing their membership with Orion.

Dr. Miller started a program called "Awesome Chieftain-Tornado Students of the Month." They've been selected from both sites. The superintendent will take the students to lunch and each will receive a T-shirt and certificate. Their picture will hang outside the main offices of the school sites. He said, "negativity gets more attention than positivity," and he wants to help change that.

Another new positive is the Golden Ticket home passes for senior citizens. Miller told the board they've had 42 seniors come in so far to the central office and get a golden ticket.

"It's been a lot of fun. We have heard some wonderful stories from senior citizens when they come in. The golden ticket idea was to build relationships with the community and it is working out really well," Miller said.

Discussing the elementary school, Maloney told of many successful activities since the beginning of school. The character education program, which has monthly values, focuses on "initiative" in September. The other monthly values for the 2018-19 school year are wisdom, contentment, cooperation, compassion, self-control, service, individuality, hope and perseverance.

In August they had five students earn "Wisdom" certificates. Maloney said students Fiona Walz and Lennon Humphrey were selected for superintendent recognition.

The "Chieftain Challenge Time" at the K-6 involves the Multi-tiered System of Support (MTSS) that begins Sept. 17 for math and literacy.

This Friday is the Chieftain's football homecoming. Maloney said the elementary students and teachers will participate in the 2:30 parade and pep rally downtown.

There is no school Sept. 24.

Maloney said there is a K-2 Nutrition and Wellness Night Oct. 10 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. He said this event is through the Barber County Extension, which will educate families on eating a healthy meal together.

Maloney updated the board on a list of things repaired at the elementary. He complimented custodial staff Keith Rathgeber and Joni Fenton for their work. Smart TVs are working and allow the elementary to maximize teaching reading and math, he said.

He thanked many entities and individuals for a variety of donations for the school, such as the hospital donating first aid supplies for Crisis Kits.

Discussing the high school and junior high, Principal Shaffer gave enrollment totals: 65 at the high school and 25 for seventh and eighth grades. Five students at the high school are foreign exchange students from Spain, Brazil (2), Vietnam and Thailand. Shaffer said all of them are out for a fall sport.

Parent/teacher conferences are Oct. 1 and 3 from 4-7:30 p.m.

Shaffer updated the board on the number of students out for sports (high school football 20, junior high football 11, high school volleyball 17m junior high volleyball 10 (with sixth graders), and tennis 6. He said the fall season is off to a good start. Football Homecoming is Friday as the Chieftains host Central Christian.

He gave updates on student organizations: FFA, STUCO and FCCLA. Shaffer said the junior class will not sell magazine subscriptions this year, but will sell something else.

Shaffer said they've decided to move high school graduation to the Saturday before Mother's Day in 2019.

Board member Miller, who represents the Monty Thompson Foundation, asked administration to remind their teachers they have two weeks to apply for grants through the foundation.
